Some immediate considerations:

1- Teaching format

A lecture of 45 minutes followed by Q&A session of 15 minutes.

To encourage participation, we suggest that some short discussion questions could be used as ice breakers. These questions could be dilemmas often occur in the operational context of your topic and thematic areas. In other words, participants need to apply what they learned to more specific context of decision making.

You may want to use 1 or 2 questions for the participants to discuss in small groups or in plenary. This is up to you to decide.

Please feel free to contact Lichia (yiucsend@gmail.com) for clarifications and suggestions.

2- Participants

There are 26 students representing different levels of academic attainment from entry level doctoral studies to pre-university college level.

3- Reading Material

Suggested reading list has been given to the students relevant to the general thematic areas of this edition of GLP. They will have read at least 2 or 3 these basic reference in each domain areas and watched some of the short clippings on the YouTube.

Your suggestion will be welcome.

4- Your Short Bio and Recent Photo

Please send us a short bio (200 words about) for inclusion into the programme as soon as possible.

Please attach a recent photo to your bio for remembrance.
